

Circles of Support

*Individually, we are one drop.
Together, we are an ocean.*

Circles of Support

Since 1956, The Arc of Indiana has stood as a beacon of hope for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD) and their families. Advocacy remains the core of our mission—families helping families and self-advocates helping self-advocates.

The number of phone calls and emails The Arc receives continues to increase. Whether it's a parent needing help navigating the confusing path of government programs, or someone in crisis in immediate need of critical services, The Arc Advocacy Network's team of family advocates is there to help— morning, noon and night.

The Arc is committed to ensuring our advocacy efforts for people with IDD and their families only grow stronger. This is a key reason why we have created our Circles of Support initiative.

As the theme of Circles of Support notes, “Individually, we are one drop. Together, we are an ocean.” We are stronger together. We invite you to join us in our efforts. Together, we can and will make a difference in so many lives.

I don't know what we would have done without The Arc of Indiana. Not only did they take my call on Christmas Eve, but a family advocate met us at the hospital and sat with us until our son had a place to go and the help he needed.
